

Timeout Ground rules for youth and for those practicing dialogue

1

I listen to others and concentrate

Everyone has the opportunity to share their own thoughts on the topic of the dialogue, but let's not interrupt each other. We can put cell phones away. The facilitator can give turns to speak.

2

I share my own thoughts and experiences

We want to hear your thoughts on the conversation topic. You do not need to have the right answers. You can continue where the previous one left off.

3

I am friendly and respectful of others

We respect different people and their experiences. We can reflect on things together without agreeing with each other. We do not pass on things that others have told us during the conversation. We do not bully other participants.
